THE GOLD STANDARD 1991 ANCHOR

The Gold Standard

A black and white photograph of a young woman with dark, wavy hair, smiling at the camera. She is wearing a light-colored, long-sleeved sweater with a dark monogram 'SSS' on the chest. She is seated at a desk, and in the background, there is a typewriter and a filing cabinet.

We chose "The Gold Standard" as the theme for the Class of 1991's yearbook. Mrs. Jean Sawyer taught us that only by striving for the best, do we have even a chance at success. Her genuine concern for Manchester High School ties us together as people, rather than as faculty and students. Today, we join together in appreciating Mrs. Jean Sawyer's seventeen years of friendship and devotion to Manchester High School.

We dedicate the 1991 Anchor to
Mrs. Jean Sawyer.

Principal's Message
To The Class of 1991

We are entering an historical era in which we are being asked to do more with less. As consumers it will feel strange to reduce our appetites after an age of plenty that has blessed our nation since the end of World War II. However, it is time to pay the bills, and, fairly or unfairly your generation will be getting stuck with the check for our high living. In short, you will be asked to find the ways, if they can be found, to avoid reducing our quality of life.

Perhaps technological innovations will help preserve our standard of living. In a rapidly changing world, brain-power has already replaced horsepower. We will all be relying on your creative powers and intellectual training to solve the environmental and energy problems we have created. Technical solutions are an American tradition. As Hank Morgan says in Mark Twain's A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court, "I could make anything a body wanted, and if there wasn't any quick, new fangled way to make a thing, I could invent one - and do it as easy as rolling off a log."

If technology does not save the day, if you cannot think your way to solutions, if you fall short of the Herculean task before you, I hope you will remember what you have learned as a class: If everyone does his bit, and plays his role fully, a class that was small in number can have a large impact. You have made yourselves known, and you have left your mark - everyone got involved.

To remind you to do your bit, I give you a fable.

A triumphant feast was scheduled in a village. To insure adequate refreshment each villager agreed to pour one bottle of his very best wine into a great cask

One villager reasoned, "If I filled my bottle with water the dilution would be so slight, no one would notice" But when the feast commenced and the great cask was tapped, water poured forth.

Everyone had thought alike:

My bit will not be missed.

Star Of the Day Who will it BE?

Ten Years Down The Road . . .

Lauren Anderson couldn't come- she forgot to plug her car in.

Karin Andersson is too busy using Herb's Pre-Astro Physics Sub-Atomic Nuclear Chemistry Aero-Dynamics and Calculus 9 (Hard Math) skills to build brick houses.

Francis Arsenault couldn't come because it wasn't a Tuesday or Thursday, so he wouldn't be able to talk. Steven Athanas is still getting in trouble for playing touchy-feely.

Krista Bialy brought us all McDonald's Happy Meals.

Sarah Bitting has been in the bathroom for the past twenty minutes. Sarah, it's alright. You're an adult now. You can come out.

Geoff Blaisdell moved to Mexico and opened his own bar: "Carlos and Geoffy's"

Betsy Bornhofft is hosting her new T. V. show: "But, What If?"

Michele Brooks is a teacher's assistant at a preschool.

Allison Burgess is on Rte 128 coning in the Impala.

Jay Chipman is teaching young students how to ride horses.

Anne Corace is presently filming her fifth appearance on the New Newlywed Game.

Steve Coyne surprised us all and is an assistant football coach with Mr. York.

Brenden Crocker replaced Julia Child with his own show: "Chunk Can Cook."

Del just invented the world's first 35 mm Porche.

Megan "Demaaakis" was called to the office.

Kate Flatley is at home watching "Murphy Brown" Reruns with Mrs. Shrock.

Katie Griffiths strived to be equal to men. Hence, like all men, she has no real ambition.

Molly Hefferman is wearing white shoes after Labor Day- just to annoy Anne.

Nathan Hughes is still driving home backwards from Gloucester.

Lisa Jenkins is spreading smiles while working at a hospital.

Scott Kershaw couldn't be here because "The Green Embarrassment" threw a rod.

Liz Kirker just opened her new franchise "The American Condo." All that experience at the Mall finally paid off.

Christine LaFreniere "refused" to come because we threatened to use her baby picture in the slide show.

Danielle Lawler will be here any minute, now. She is pushing her Subaru up the street.

Carey Lengieza is the Headmistress of Lenny's Summer Academic Camp at Watch Hill.

Colin Linehan went to the Danvers High Reunion instead.

Lisa Marletta showed up in the family Cherokee. She was a tad bit late because the polo game ran late at the Country Club. We always knew you'd become a Yuppy.

Chris McConnell is stuck on Misery Island because high winds blew him and his Bug there.

Mark McCoy is still trying to get us to move our Fourth of July float.

Michele Missan is "missin." She is conducting a study on DWS (DECA Withdrawal Syndrome).

Tim Morgan is wanted by the FBI for his dangerous degree of arrogance.

Michele Neville is talking on the phone with her mother.

Elizabeth Nichols surprised us all by becoming a "Dawna." She is destroying the ozone layer with all her hayaspray.

Bonnie Nix is worshipping her new religion: Emersonism in the city of Iowa City.

Carolyn O'Malley was here but she left early; so Mrs. Bullock, assigned her three more detentions.

Cosmo Pallazola is recouperating from his accident caused by leaning over too far.

Teresa Patchett's tire blew up and she's trying to "patch it." (We did the best we could, Teresa.)

Mike Powers is autographing his new book How To Be A Water Boy in Brown's Market parking lot.

Lisa Stella is a "roadie" for The New Kids.

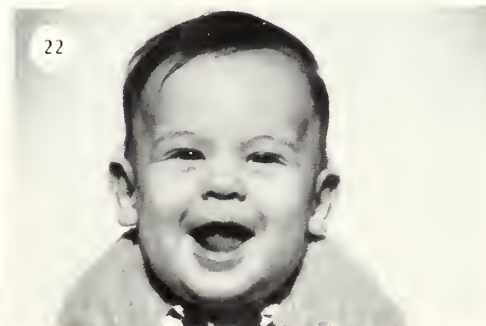

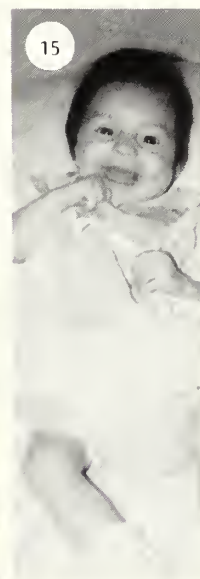

Denny Towle was the first to arrive. Since then she's been backstage looking for the light switch.

Seth Verry is performing ORAL Surgery.

We couldn't get in touch with Gretchen Werner because she's in the boonies somewhere in Maine.

"Z" simply forgot.

Detention: a very interesting aspect of life at MHS. I spent an afternoon researching the many thrills and excitement that only the few "invited" are allowed to share. The most common reasons students are assigned forty minutes of student-teacher bonding time are forgetting to bring in notes from home and establishing habits of tardiness. The most encouraging discovery was that there were no detentions held on the first two days of school. Between then and Christmas Break, 61 detentions have been attended by 223 students. Many of these attendees are repeat offenders. Most teachers kind of groaned when I asked them how they enjoyed monitoring the students to make sure that no one exhibited "disruptive behavior," arrived "unprepared to work," or used a Walkman.

This fall, the students of MHS, along with parents and faculty, marched in a parade to promote a "yes" vote on Proposition 2 1/2. Organized by Mrs. O'Leary, the Senior High Student Council, and Mrs. Crosby, the march united the town to convince voters to help the schools. Thanks to the dedication of Manchester residents, the question passed in our favor.

American Red Cross

The 1990 Bloodmobile at Manchester High School raised 49 pints of blood for the American Red Cross. There were many students who offered their time to help make the Blood drive successful. Mr. Ryan, the program's director, was very pleased with the results and equally as proud of the participating students. There were also faculty members who assisted them and donated blood themselves. Thank you to all students, teachers, parents, and Manchester residents who made this year's Bloodmobile a success.

This year's Junior class, during the holiday season, sponsored a toy drive for needy children in the area. Both schools contributed greatly to the collection of toys, games, and books. These toys were given to the children at Child Development, a program in Gloucester. Margaret Graves, the chairwoman of the drive, and Mrs. Mentus, the Junior class advisor, encouraged the student's activity. The participation was greatly appreciated.

FOOTBALL

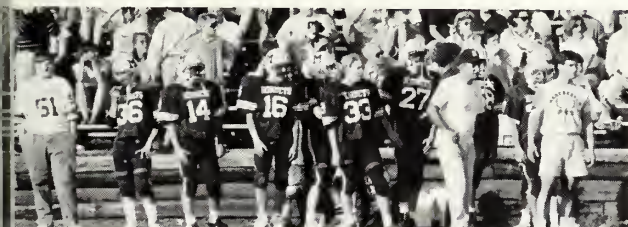

"It's not the size of the dog in the fight. It's the size of the fight in the dog."

"We played with low numbers but high intensity. Many of the teams we played were bigger than us, but we just outplayed them. Nobody thought we would have a winning season, but I think we were trying to prove to ourselves that we could play." -Ereck Sullivan

One of Steven's high points of the season: "Coach Beatrice never complimented anyone, and after the Dorchester Game, he said 'nice game' to me." "We have a really close team, and good team unity." -Steven Athanas

Georgetown: every game was special to me, but this was beyond special. It was inspirational. I didn't want that final tick to come of the clock, but I have learned to realize that all good things come to an end." -Cosmo Pallazola

We thank you for giving us the privilege of editing Archer 1991. It's had bumps and bruises, but after all, it's been here, and it's been worth it. Don't forget: We're all "Gold Through and Through."

Tenth Reunion As We Predicted In The 8th Grade:

KANITAH went back to Gloucester and we haven't heard from her since.

MARK C. is a monk and showed up with his head shaved.

STEVEN refused to come, he didn't know what Todd Zimmerman was wearing.

BRUCE is touring with Boy George.

ANNE is at fat camp.

MOLLY is still living with her mother.

JON is modeling underwear for Zayre's.

JASON would like to come, but he's in the Caymans looking for his birth certificate.

STELLA arrived with Manute Bol.

KATE is teaching Spanish.

BRENDEN arrived in a wheelchair.

TERESA was too busy. She's starring in the Patchett bunch.

SUZANNE had Mono, again . . .

KARIN the rebel leader, showed up on her Harley Davidson with Brittany.

MARK M. is in the hospital. His moped wiped out.

MICHELLE is playing her flute on a New York street corner for pennies.

RYAN is too busy eating celery and producing motorized fluttermills.

CAREY is checking her back for "kick me" signs, still.

KIM showed up, ate all the food, and left.

MIKE is scorekeeper for the Celtics.

SHANNON is home with Joby and the kids.

DANIELLE is out searching for J.D.

ALLISON is out partying. What else for the Party Animal?

DEL is in Hawaii, surfing.

LAUREN came. Her teeth still haven't come in. How much longer, Lauren?

KATIE is president of the United States.

CHRIS finally got caught.

FRANCIS showed up with his father and sister. We sent the invitation to Fran Arsenault.

BETSY is accepting the Nobel Peace Prize.

BONNIE lost her invitation.

MICHELLE R. is still trying to sell her house.

ACTIVITIES

The Student Councils had an active year with the help of Mrs. Crosby and Mrs. Cook. A successful dance was organized for the Junior High. A second dance with "Mr. Gone" was held in November to raise money for the Manchester Fund to prevent Homelessness. We were given an opportunity to hear an "Absolute Zero" performance at MHS. A telethon for the American Heart Association was sponsored by the members and they held a Coffee House gathering at the Community Center. More than ever before, the entire student body was asked for suggestions of issues to be discussed at their meetings. Both the Senior High and Junior High Student Councils made known their presence and efforts during the 1990/1991 school year.

Junior High Student Council: Christina Sabanty, Kent Insley, Jamie Reed, Owen Beane, Will Carbo, Sprague Grayden, Maura Logue, Mary Wood, Megan McEwan, Franny Wetterlow, Jason Parker, Michele Gorden, Mrs. Cook.

"It's been a fun and exciting year and I look forward to presenting 'Don't Drink the Water.' Our goal for MHS Thespians was for us to grow in size and for students to gain awareness about us. My experiences allowed me to acquire many new skills like public speaking, memorizing and managing, and most importantly, I made new friends."

The Debate year kicked off with the RE-SE'ARCHATHON. Thanks to the continued support of generous contributors the debate team has been able to travel extensively. They were able to make four airplane trips, including one to Wake Forest University in Winston-Salem, North Carolina and another to Emory University in Atlanta, Georgia. At all of the tournaments the team met some difficult competition but came out on top.

This year the team was made-up of Hard-working novices, J.V., Varsity, and L-D debaters whose records reflect their commitment to debate. The team also successfully organized two tournaments held here at M.H.S. The entire competitive season was successful, which can in part be attributed to the officers as well as the incredible devotion of their coach, Mr. Averill.

In 1990 Manchester DECA made another round of phenomenal performances at the District, State, and National Competitions. We all joined in on a loud chanter of "Sweep, Sweep, Sweep" when we set a record for taking 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places in a category. Eighteen students from MHS joined the thousands of other students in San Jose. For many, the highlight of our week was witnessing Alex swallow a spoonful of hot mustard for five dollars. In February of 1991 Manchester shined once again as we exhibited the spirit and talent which led forty students to qualify for States. Through all of this we realized just how many of us are victims of hives.

We all thank Mrs. Borsetti and Mrs. Benoit for supporting us and helping us learn that "He who thinks far goes far."

Golden Melodies

"I owe a great deal to Mrs. Ryan for all she's helped me accomplish this year. With her help and encouragement, I qualified for The New England Music Festival. She arranged for my audition and spent much of her time rehearsing with me each week in preparation for it. She even drove me to the audition in Connecticut. She has always motivated and supported me, even when my attitude was negative. She has helped teach me that if I work hard enough and want it badly enough, I can accomplish my goals." -Michele Neville
